

DRAMATIC

WHAT THE-

Wait, wait

Huh?

Oh

I did it once now I'm an addict
You could say I'm dramatic
My face feels a little different
Like I'm covered in static

My body melts into the mattress
I ain't watching it happen
I'm logging out like a cabin
While uncontrollably laughin

Haha, think I'm needing a break
We been at it for an hour, I got E in the tank
No need to contemplate, 'cause I got three in the sand
But part of me believes that everything I'm seeing is fake

Is it real, can you tell me how you feel baby?
Is it real, can you tell me how you feel baby?
We've been out the whole week can we chill?
Liking how you break it down, but now I think that we can build baby

High sides
What?
My fault
You didn't believe me, no?

It's my fault, I feel safe
Now I'm looking at my eyeballs
So bloodshot
Eight shots deep, I'm appalled

Everyone talking
I know the voices are calling
I might just go to the bathroom
And lock myself in a stall and try not to freak 'cause I'm tripping

I hit the floor now I'm crawling
I can't recall the beginning
But wait a minute I'm balling
I sprinted back to my senses

Into the room I was lost in
I saw your face in the crowd
And cupid told me be cautious
Said I can't promise you the world

But I got time if you want it
She looked me straight up in my eyes
"I like your vibe if I'm honest"
And now I'm sad

Wait, what did she say?

Am I the man now?
Next couple year in my head, already planned
Stop, I don't wanna rush it again

I gotta stand down
Now she coming back to my place
I hope the fans on (It was not!)

So my AC isn't working
She said she like it hot inside the circus
Well, I don't even know what that means
But I'll try to give my flyest performance like trapeze
