

Heartbeat Conversations

Rxseboy

That's the sound of my heartbeat
I just gotta let my heart speak
That's the sound of my heartbeat
Sometimes I just gotta let my heart speak

Steady pondering in silence
At least I never had the nerves to wonder into violence
I hide it and try to be the best I can be Butterflies up in my stomach heart is skipping a beat
I need serenity, that's one of many things I enjoy
With everybody being loud I think I'm getting annoyed
I got a voice I just don't know how to use it
Talking to myself I think I'll try to make some music

(Du du du du du du)

That's the sound of my heartbeat
I just gotta let my heart speak
That's the sound of my heartbeat
Sometimes I just gotta let my heart speak

Try to talk to me I'll walk around the conversation
I gotta listen to my heart it takes a lot of patience
It barely says like anything but that's alright with me
Cause when it finally talks it paints a picture that's a sight to see
And I could write a book about it but I'd keep it secret
Even while I write a song I can't disclose the reason
Why I keep it to myself is like a mystery
I just hope the one I love is saying that she missing me

(Du du du du du du)

That's the sound of my heartbeat (du du du du du du)
I just gotta let my heart speak (du du du du du du)
That's the sound of my heartbeat (du du du du du du)
Sometimes I just gotta let my hear speak