

Let me sleep

Rxseboy

(Baby, I just wanna sleep
Tell me how I'll be okay
When you took everything from me)

I'm seeing aquamarine
Light blues in my mind as I'm falling asleep
And when I dream, I'm still thinking I'm a father to be
I guess reality started getting hard to believe
What goes up comes down like I'm marking a three Wish I could've been happy, I was charting in Greece
I'm losing hope in everything, I'm 'bout to drop to my knees
Like "Hey God, will you accept this peace offering, please?"
I keep talking, she's nodding, on and off with the z's
We're sleepwalking, pretty fly, but she got lost in the scene
With deep pockets we would often take a lot to extremes
Like grief shopping, bleak topics that are not for the weak
I'm getting tears on my cheeks, she hears my chattering teeth
Feel like my jaw's about to break from all this pain that I spe ak
I hid my feelings in my brain until my veins started leaking
All the tension fed deception now my hatred is peaking
Let me sleep

I can't believe you could sit there and call me a creep
After everything I did and all the shit that I seen
I always knew that one day you'd eventually leave
Now, let me sleep
I can't believe you could sit there and call me a creep
After everything I did and all the shit that I seen
I always knew that one day you'd eventually leave
Now, let me sleep

Baby, I just wanna sleep
Tell me how I'll be okay
When you took everything from me
I'm seeing aquamarine
Light blues in my mind as I'm falling asleep
I used to be a father to be
It's been a year and that shit's still bothering me, yeah
