

One Day

Rxseboy

One day, I'll be alone
One day, I might be grown
One day, I might be known
One day, I'll live a lie
One day, I'll see the skies
One day, I'll meet with you
One day, I'll fall in love
One day, I'll get too high off of the drugs and won't be coming down
They're looking at me now
I never try to frown
It always happens, I slip into my depression
I'm thinking I learned a lesson, but happiness stays deafened

One day I'll realize that nothing matters
After I face my fears I'll probably have to face disaster
Feel madness from every action that I've made up in a past life
Downing all the shots you hand me, never have to ask twice

One day, I'll reach the goal
One day, I'll see a girl
One day, I'll leave the world

One day, I'll understand
One day, I'll be a man
One day, I'll make a plan
Till then, do what I can

One day, I'll be alone
One day, I might be grown
One day, I might be known
One day, I'll live a lie
One day, I'll see the skies
One day, I'll meet with you
One day, I'll fall in love
One day, I'll get too high off of the drugs and won't be coming down
They're looking at me now
I never try to frown
It always happens, I slip into my depression
I'm thinking I learned a lesson, but happiness stays deafened

One day, I hope they tell me what I can do
I'm moving on from canned soup
My life is gon be grand too

One day, I hope I make it out the trenches
I'll be rising from the benches
Like I found my happy ending
