I just want my heart to beat again
Knew it from the start, we'd meet again
There's no way that we can just be friends
Will you come back before you leave again

I just want my heart to beat again
Knew it from the start, we'd meet again
There's no way that we can just be friends
Will you come back before you leave again

Broken-hearted, we just started
And now we're done
(And now we're done, yeah)

I don't know what went wrong
Feeling stuck in my song
Spent the night, I was terrified
That I'd wake up to you gone
In my arms so close
Helping me while I cope
Can't believe what I sacrificed
Now I'm petrified with no hope
Take a hit, but it's sitting slow
Say you gotta leave, "I gotta go"
I've been on the road
I've been doing shows
Everyday, tryna hit you up
Leaving me on read
All your friends think I'm better dead
Think I'm better dead
When we meet again, promise Imma make it right
If you feel it we could gaze up at the city lights
It was always you and I, and never televised
The problem is you were the one who started telling lies

Started telling lies
Telling lies, telling lies, telling lies
And you were my, you were mine

I just want my heart to beat again
Knew it from the start, we'd meet again
There's no way that we can just be friends
Will you come back before you leave again

I just want my heart to beat again
Knew it from the start, we'd meet again
There's no way that we can just be friends
Will you come back before you leave again

Broken-hearted, we just started
And now we're done
(And now we're done, yeah)

Broken-hearted, we just started
And now we're done
