Sidepiece got me in pieces
I've been catching feelings
I ain't even got a reason
Hit her up because my main thing leaving on the weekend
Nightmares don't fight fair
And dream she be deceiving
While she cheating
But she not even mine
I think I'm wasting my time
Would you believe me if I said my sidechick was a dime?
No lie she probably got another guy on the side
I know I'm right so I'm impartial when she staying at night
Now I'm talking like I know her
Hiding how I feel because I'm scared that when I show her
It'll really all be over
Maybe this is fine how it is
But now I'm thinking about a wife and some kids
I catch feelings too quick, that's a me thing
I don't wanna rethink
Treating her like Zelda cuz I'm loving it when we link
I know that she a princess
Take her to the castle
And prove to her that I ain't tryna cap like a tassel

Tearing out
Tearing out pieces, of me
To replace the broken pieces
Of you

Tearing out (Tearing out)
Tearing out pieces, (all the pieces) of me
To replace the broken pieces
Of you

Yeah, all over a side chick
She could save the day though, I let her be a sidekick
Yeah I fight crime and all my feelings while I write this
And she likes my inner spirit 'cause I'm righteous
On the outside people see me as a villain
Got a different personality like every time we chilling
I'm a secondary character
Underwhelming features
I won't ever be your number one
So I won't make you number one either

Tearing out
Tearing out pieces, of me

To replace the broken pieces
Of you

Tearing out (Tearing out)
Tearing out pieces, (all the pieces) of me
To replace the broken pieces
Of you

You're the best problem that I have in my life
You not mine but I want you tonight
I'm indecisive I know
But you the star of the show
Cuz I'm a true side piece that you could always dispose of Ain't no change in both how you see fit
Notice you ain't ever acting like you need this
I should tell my main thing
That she ain't it cuz you're the only one I see when I think of bliss
