Yeah, I miss the sunshine brightening up my days
And I miss the ice cream sticky to my face
Wake up from a bad dream, evil go away
Wake up, now I'm lonely with nothing to say
I'm at a place, I'm at a time
I left a note of what's on my mind
I'm all alone, nobody's home, pickup your phone, back to a ghost
Yeah I miss the sunshine (sunshine, sunshine)
My life is a joke and it don't got a punchline (ha-ha)
Yeah I miss the sunshine (woah-oh-oh-oh)

Cloudy weather with no birds out
Lately I've been working on my paycheck, got my third out
Vocal cords are telling me I'm really about to burnout
But I'ma try to sing a little bit to get the heard out
(Only way it works now)
I've been feeling lonely
Asking everybody what they doing, like I'm nosy
Lot of "I'm busy" so the lack of hope is growing
Lately I don't show emotion
If I did it's overflowing that will be annoyin'
Bet they all enjoy it, seeing me like this
Pink shirt, gym shorts, and it's see what I write
There's keys on the keyboard turnin' green while I'm typin'
Hope they show their true colors
While I gotta recite this, uh
Lost in the thrill so I'm coppin' a deal
They just wantin' me to draw, so I cough up a will
They want it back, but I'm wantin' my life back
I take your voice away, tell me how would you like that

Yeah, I miss the sunshine brightening up my days
