

wither

Rxseboy

I will wither like a tree
You feel my heart apart from me
Then I gave it all to you
I will wither like a tree
You fear I'm all I'll ever be
I'm decaying, in my home

I'm out of energy, eventually my life will be null
I got some sickness in my head somehow it went through my skull
Got tired of the medication, it was making me dull
From no emotion while expressing all my feelings in full Like what's the point of standing tall if I get cut in my waist
And what's the point of branching out when she'll just snap at my face
Man, I had all this happiness and she just took it away
I lost my son so I defected and accepted the rain, yeah

I will wither like a tree
You feel my heart apart from me
Then I gave it all to you

I'll give the honest truth, you made a wrongful move
Then chopped me down without a logging crew, so I would fall fo r you
I never knew that I had lost my roots, inside a awful ruse
I thought that we would have a proper bloom
You led me to my doom
I need a chance to dissipate the disgrace, start to appreciate
God
Or maybe I should kill myself so they don't call me a fraud
I've been through so damn much and I don't have an escape
I hope you're laughing at a passion as I wither away, yeah

I will wither like a tree
You fear I'm all I'll ever be
I'm decaying in my home
