

Under the lighting
Heavier breath
High by a mouth made
Knees to your chest

We let love be like water to wine
We let love be the higher design
We let love be a call in the night
We let love be the fire divine

Under the shadow
Heavy remains
Chemical ashes fall
Lips to my veins

We let love be like water to wine
We let love be the higher design
We let love be a call in the night
We let love be the fire divine

But here we are turning our heads down
Here we are falling like lovers
We're falling like lovers and I turn my head
'cause I know what shame you've done

We let love be like water to wine
We let love be the higher design
We let love be a call in the night
We let love be the fire divine

We let love be like water to wine
We let love be the higher design
We let love be a call in the night
We let love be the fire divine

I know I started it all
I know I started to run
I won't let go of it all
I won't let go of the gun

Oh god, below,
What have we done?
