

If You See Her, Say Hello

Ryan Adams

If you see her, say hello, she might be in Tangier
She left here last early Spring, is livin' there, I hear
Say for me that I'm alright though things come and go
She might think that I've forgotten her, don't tell her it isn't so

We had a falling out, like all lovers often will Think of how she left that night, it still brings me a chill
And through our separation, it pierced me to the heart
She still lives inside of me, we've never been apart

If you're making love to her, kiss her for the kid [?]
Who has always respected her for doing what she did
Oh I know it had to be that way, it was written in the cards
But this bitter taste still lingers on, it's all come down so hard

I see a lot of people as I make the rounds
And I hear her name here and there as I go from town to town
And I've never gotten used to it, I've just learned to turn it off
Either I'm too sensitive or else I'm gettin' soft

Sundown, yellow moon, I replay the past
I know every scene by heart, they all went by so fast
If she's passin' back this way, I'm not that hard to find
Tell her she can look me up if she's got the time
