

In the Meadow

Ryan Adams

In the meadow, let me lay
Clouds move across my face
Endless sun turns orange
Orange into gold

Like a sliver of the evening sun
Ohh, as the fire's only glowing slow
Still here, but almost gone
Ohh, ohh
Ohh, ohh

I feel so betrayed
I feel so betrayed
I feel so betrayed
Feel so afraid

In the summer, dogs will run
Over eating and barking song
Someplace in the yard
Where we used to play

In the meadow, in the heat
Helicopters fly above the street
Spotlight shining down
Sirens...

In a sliver of the evening sun
Ohh, as the fire's only glowing slow
Still here, almost gone
Ohh, ohh
Ohh

I feel so betrayed
I feel so betrayed
I feel so betrayed
I feel so betrayed
Feel so afraid

In the shadows of Shady Lane
Pink houses all stripped of paint
From the salty tears
The ocean turned to rain

In a sliver of the evening sun
Ohh, as the fire's only glowing slow
Still here, almost gone
Ohh, ohh
Ohh

I feel so betrayed
I feel so betrayed
I feel so betrayed
I'm so ashamed
