

Runaway

Ryan Adams

Stand against the wall
The hot lights dancing on my eyelids
Gone flickering
She is clumsy and calm
And not listening
Touching and aware
This is all just meaningless

C'mon
Let's burn the whole place down
Burn it all to the ground
Blast it into space
Too bad it looks like rain
I feel like a runaway
I feel like a runaway
With nowhere to run to
With no one to turn to
So, hold me now

So, hold me now

I know what you want
But don't say
Head in the clouds
And eyes on the fire
I'm insane
I'm insane
I'm insane
I'm insane
And I'm driving into
The horizon on the freeway

C'mon
Let's burn the whole place down
Burn it all to the ground
Blast it into space
Oops too bad, it looks like rain
I feel like a runaway
I feel like a runaway
With nowhere to run
With no one to run to
So, hold me now

So, hold me now
