

Self Defense

Ryan Adams

I imagine us throwin bottles at this pizza place
Like when a shadow's on another world [?]
Locks of curls, and falling bangs
[?] Into the ocean babe

I been tryin to win this war inside my brain
Nobody wins, they all go insane
Don't tell me I ain't got no soul
I just need some time with this after all

Here comes the light
It's in me
It's dizzy on a night
Come on let's be late
It's only self-defense against the moonlight

You're so heavy like the rain on the sidewalk
Steam rising up through the grates
Slow cars and pretty eyes
Moon crashes in the riverside

Broken shoes stacked up in the trash cans on the street
Puddles reflecting some Christmas lights
Feel like I'm gonna lose my soul if I think about this anymore

And here comes the light that's in me
It's dizzy on the night
Come on let's be late
It's only self-defense
A little touch of moonlight
Here comes the light
Here comes the moonlight
Here comes the light
