

Cry Like The Clouds

Ryan Caraveo

I think I'm hallucinatin'
Still awake on day ten
Like Dayton, we spoke a hundred times
I'm over your mistakes, but you still ain't over mine
Trouble follow me wherever I go
How can I make it up to you? Hell if I know
Please don't let me dim your elegant glow
I was only J-K like L-M-N-O

If I could rearrange the whole alphabet
I would repeat the letter Z and sleep 'til I forget
But since I can't, I'ma keep tappin' the tab
'Cause I don't wanna spend Saturday sad

You remind me of the city that I'm from
'Cause you cry like the clouds and hide like the sun
When you come around, it's like you never left
But will you stick around? I can never guess
You remind me of the city that I'm from

I caught a glimpse of you, you were so whimsical
For a minute or two, you seemed invincible
Until you hit your truth, like it's against the rules
If it meant I'd get you back, I'd tear my limbs in two
I think it's tragic your passion got mixed with your sadness
You think it's why you're strong so you don't move past it
And just when we ran our course
There's that smile of yours

You remind me of the city that I'm from
'Cause you cry like the clouds and hide like the sun
When you come around, it's like you never left
But will you stick around? I can never guess
You remind me of the city that I'm from

You remind me of the city that I'm from
'Cause you cry like the clouds, hide like the sun
When you finally come out to play, it's like you never left
Will you stick around? I can never guess
You remind me of the city that I'm from
'Cause you cry like the clouds, hide like the sun
When you finally come out to play, it's like you never left
Will you stick around? I can never guess
