

Go Time

Ryan Caraveo

We runnin' up them numbers, uh
We runnin' up on neighbors
We don't got no good Karma left
We runnin' out of favors, yeah
Dabs and hooks don't pay the rent
Never seen an angel sent
To this side of town I live
So I reap while they repent
My role model's were finessers
Pop percocet pills in the dresser
Gave me forty and I flipped 'em, I ain't even feel depression
Never learned to press a shirt
Never learned to tie a tie
'Cause I seen my parents checks
And I seen they tired eyes
If we could've paid for college
Hell, I might've been a lawyer
But that prolly wouldn't work
I'm too motherfucking loyal
I've got too many people counting on me, on me
On me, on me

So it's go time, crunch time
Night time, sleep time
Wake time, work time
No time, make time
Luck is just something that you make
If they don't want to give, you take
Go time, crunch time
Night time, sleep time
Wake time, work time
No time, make time
Luck is just something that you make
If they don't want to give, you take

I am not proud of what I've been
But I'm proud of where I came from
Drowning in the, drowning in the drink going brain dumb
Waking up with strangers
Don't know where they came for
Turn my life around and I started building kingdoms
All I do is work now
Funny how it works, ya
Ain't no time to take her on a date
I don't have a girl, nah
I guess that's the trade off
Guess I had to fade off
To finally find the time to figure out what I was made of
Ay, give me space, love
I got shit to prove
I don't do this for no pay stub
I know that you hate the
Way it separates us
But success is something
I need me a taste of
So it's

Go time, crunch time
Night time, sleep time
Wake time, work time
No time, make time
Luck is just something that you make
Go time, crunch time
Night time, sleep time
Wake time, work time
No time, make time
Luck is just something that you make
If they don't want to give, you take
Go time, crunch time
Night time, sleep time
Wake time, work time
No time, make time
Luck is just something that you make
