Run

Ryan Caraveo

(Run, run, run, run)

It's a feeling that I can't put my finger on
I make my decisions like I'm not gonna be here long
People try to show me signs, I just always read them wrong
Sorry if I ever hurt you, swear I didn't meant no harm
Head full of worries and the wind in my face
The only time I feel at peace is when I pick up the pace
There ain't no substitute for it when I crave a release
The pills only make it worse and liquor just make me sleep
I gotta go, I gotta run and put some distance between us
I know one day I'ma turn them all into believers
Make them switch they demeanours
Once they finally get it
I would love to explain it
But I'm fading, I'm afraid I gotta

(Run)
I've spent a lifetime living on the (Run)
Don't know how to stop it when the tears start to (Run)
I do not feel like I belong so I (Run)
I'd rather be anywhere but here so I (Run)
I've spent a lifetime living on the (Run)
Don't know how to stop it when the tears start to (Run)
I do not feel like I belong so I (Run)
I'd rather be anywhere but here

Something isn't right, I can't hear the inner me
But my shell is doing well, so nobody intervenes
Convos feel like interviews, I get through by any means
Mirror on my face, I'm just displaying what you give to me
Everyday I fantasize of burning it all
Go somewhere where I would never a burden at all
Take every penny that I ever earned and give it away
Disconnect the telephone and disappear in a day
They say the truth will set you free and I think of it so often
It's so nice of you to notice, but there's no use in talking
'Cause I hear what you saying
But none of it is staying
I do appreciate it
But I'm fading, I'm afraid I gotta

(Run)
I've spent a lifetime living on the (Run)
Don't know how to stop it when the tears start to (Run)
I do not feel like I belong so I (Run)
I'd rather be anywhere but here so I (Run)
I've spent a lifetime living on the (Run)
Don't know how to stop it when the tears start to (Run)
I do not feel like I belong so I (Run)
I'd rather be anywhere but here
(Run, run, run, run)
