

Die For It

Ryan Hurd

Start simple, say hello, and then you're off to the races
Couple drinks, split a cab, sleep at each other's places
Then you're down on one knee in a boat on the lake
Then she walks down the aisle and you say

I would fight for it, lose my mind for it
Stay up all damn night, scream and cry for it
More than try for it, give my life for it
And I'll be right by your side 'til I die for it

Mm, mm, mm

Two years in, two hearts break, saying things we don't mean
Equal parts love and hate, we're somewhere in between
Tell me why in the world would you still wanna stay?
I don't feel anything, but I mean what I say

I would fight for it, lose my mind for it
Stay up all damn night, scream and cry for it
More than try for it, give my life for it
And I'll be right by your side 'til I die for it

There's bitter in the sweet, a little pain in the pleasure
There's always gonna be a little rough in the weather
And the road is scary, but we're getting there together
This life is temporary, this love is forever
This love is forever
This love is forever

Love is hell, love is pain, love is sunshine and rain
Love gets harder with time, love gets better with age
Love takes you to the moon, love blows up in your face
Love doesn't have an ending, love is always a chase

I would fight for it, lose my mind for it
Stay up all damn night, scream and cry for it
More than try for it, give my life for it
And I'll be right by your side 'til I die for it

There's bitter in the sweet, a little pain in the pleasure
There's always gonna be a little rough in the weather
And the road is scary, but we're getting there together
This life is temporary, this love is forever
(This love is forever)
(This love is forever)

Start simple, say hello, then you're off to the races
