

Lost In You

Ryan O'Shaughnessy

I should have bought you a rose
But I wasn't thinking, no
When the nerves crept inside
I found them too hard to hide that night

You should have taken my coat
I knew well you were cold
But you turned with a smile
Said I'll heat up in a while
And it left me colder

Ohh
I'll get lost in you
Ohh
I'll get lost in you
Before this night is through

I should have held back the door
I hope I made you feel secure
There's no words to describe
How I saw you that night
You took my breath away

Ohh
I'll get lost in you
Ohh
I'll get lost in you
Before this night is...

Through my mind my thoughts keep spinning around
They're tellin' me there's plenty more fish in the sea
Well I've dived the deepest and I can't hold my breath much longer
See I've found
That life's bound
To get you
When you least expect it to

Ohh
I'll get lost in you
Ohh
I'll get lost in you
I should have bought you a rose
