All Yours

Ryan Stevenson

I haven't been able, to find a way to articulate
What I'm seeing since You took the blindfold off of my eyes
It's been a little bit painful, working through Confronting my issues, but I'm finding freedom in letting go
Cause You've been laying a foundation, of truth and grace
And my life is changing

I am all, all Yours
I am all, all Yours
The only way I'm free is to give You everything
I am all, all Yours

I've never been so thankful
That I'm not defined by my human side
I've found my identity in the one who holds my destiny
Cause You've been laying a foundation, of truth and grace
And my life is changing

I am all, all Yours
I am all, all Yours
The only way I'm free is to give You everything
I am all, all Yours

Lord, You swept me off my feet
You gave it all for me
Now all I want is to give You everything

I am all, all Yours
I am all, all Yours
The only way I'm free is to give You everything
I am all, all Yours
