

Through It All

Ryan Stevenson

Woke up from a long night
Hoping for the sunlight
Just another cloudy day
Stressing on the inside
Fighting all the same lies
Can't put on your happy face

No you can't fake it
Heart is breakin'
Shame is trying to take you down
This over thinking
Boat is sinking
Wish someone could pull you out

This is not the end of the story
You're gonna see the light in the morning
You need to know you're not alone
No you are never too far gone
Our God redeems, I'm living proof
That He's gonna love you through it all
Through it all
He's gonna love you through it all
Through it all

Broken by the rumors
Trippin' 'bout the future
All you wanna do is hide
Waves of the tension
Comin' with a vengeance
Crashing on every side

No you can't fake it
Hard to face it
Fear is tryin' to take you down
This overthinking
Boat is sinking
Wish someone could pull you out

This is not the end of the story
You're gonna see the light in the morning
You need to know you're not alone
No you are never too far gone
Our God redeems, I'm living proof
That He's gonna love you through it all
Through it all
He's gonna love you through it all
Through it all

At the end of your rope
When you're losing your hope
And you're barely holding on
He'll be all that you need
No He's not gonna leave
He'll carry you through it all

He'll be all that you need

This is not the end of the story
You need to know you're not alone
No you are never too far gone
Our God redeems, I'm living proof
That He's gonna love you through it all
Through it all
He's gonna love you through it all
Through it all

Through it all
Through it all
He's gonna love you through it all
Through it all
