

Silence

Ryan Trey

Yeah

I just wanna do it right each day goes in Friends keep changing my niggas just keep folding Women fall short but money just keeps growing Why you wanna argue who's doing the most
When I'm calmer than you I don't need lectures
We've been at it since mama drove the Lexus
[?] you gave my daughter a blessing
Her heart so cold I know that you done stressing Two strings left and both of them getting severed if she never gets her shit together
I'm hotter than that bottomless Missouri weather
I got hella reasons not to keep her ass around forever
She don't ever act like it's just me I see it these days Getting comfortable you've been on the throne but watch me snatch that shit from under you
I can send a tweet and let the world know I ain't fuck with you
And anybody that you've met through will end up done with you I'm cooling though, I'm writing all these songs and you know who it's for bu t all these women don't You'd be surprised by all the ladies from my district hear a song and then t hey hit my phone
But that's just how it goes, I'd rather lay low and let em gossip bout the c haracters in it it's getting vicious Tryna serve me love when none of em playing tennis
I'm a heartbreak child and you was doing that did it it ain't the same
So I ain't no different I don't get it

But I'm calmer than you, nights keep going
Tone that down we'll work it out in the morning
We stood stronger than armies and Hulk Hogans
Laughs all night start dying it's just silence like damn
And the nights keep going
And you still sleeping on me yeah
But I'm calmer than you, nights keep going
Tone that down we'll work it out in the morning
We stood stronger than armies and Hulk Hogans
Laughs all night start dying it's just silence it's like

But now I'm single and I'm down to mingle [?] set up the session have [?] call my people
Let's get it popping don't have those women waiting in the lobby
I need water I've been exhausted checking up on somebody that's better off w ithout me
Do you see the reasons on why it look like I got it
For real I don't got it
Do you see the way I'm tipping the scale
[?] been aware of my options
I should give Asia a call when I get back to my hood
I should let [?] hit the road
And show her what's good
You can see the red lights through the window
I took off my cape girl I'm tired of playing hero
Tried to play me dirty that only made me a sicko
And I let it be
The only thing that's gotten in to me is Hennessy and making good music that still relates to all my enemies

Even if they hate me
I don't need you I told you I got it figured out
So now you got to stick with partying and backwoods
Just know you blocked on every single fucking platform

You say I'm crazy but I'm calmer than you Nights keep going, tone that down
We stood stronger than armies and Hulk Hogans
Laughs all night start dying it's just silence
But I'm calmer than you
Nights keep going, tone that down we'll work it out in the morning
We stood stronger than armies and Hulk Hogans
Laughs all night start dying it's just silence
