

5 YEARS AGO

Ryman Leon

Woke up on a fault line
Everything seemed alright
It's what you get in California
Ground shakes when I see a light blue Mazda

I would of never really let you go
If I didn't have to
And it's getting old finding you in places that we used to go
It's getting old

And we were so damn close in the end
But you didn't fight for shit
And I couldn't say back then
Now it's stuck in my head
Saying

I don't know where we went wrong
The pain's the same but it's too far gone
And I couldn't save something you don't want
But I don't know
How this was five years ago

They say faith is where it starts
But you're an atheist at heart
But I'll still take every shot in the dark
I can

And we were so damn close in the end
But you didn't fight for shit
And I couldn't say back then
Now it's stuck in my head
Saying

I don't know where we went wrong
The pain's the same but it's too far gone
And I couldn't save something you don't want
And I don't know
How this was five years ago
How this was five years ago
How this was five years ago
How this was five years ago

I would of never really let you go
If I didn't have to
And it's getting old finding you in places that we used to go
It's getting old
And I don't know
How this was five years ago
