

PERFECT BLUE

Ryman Leon

And she still got my high school sweater a hometown killer
She's that girl next door who wouldn't consider
If it was love at first sight she didn't know at all
And I was that boy meets world afraid to tell her
So I talked myself out of her instead of Thinking love at first sight was even love at all

Now if I say
Anything at all

I'd say I wish I knew then what I know now
Because fate has a funny way of working out
She's that something old, something new
Gave my heart to borrow she's the perfect blue
The perfect blue

And after 2 months with her I couldn't quit her
I'm a full blown junkie with scars that fit her
I was chasing her highs just so I could fall
Because she knows how my brain works
Like how the brightest sky reminds me of her
The color in her eyes
I would spend all my time trying to paint her walls

Now if I say
Anything at all

I'd say I wish I knew then what I know now
Because fate has a funny way of working out
She's that something old, something new
Gave my heart to borrow she's the perfect blue
The perfect blue
The perfect blue

You're my something blue
You can borrow
My heart every day
And tomorrow
It all feels new
Even when we're getting old

You're my something blue
You can borrow
My heart every day
And tomorrow
It all feels new
Even when we're getting old
