Ryman Leon

Would you forgive me
For falling so quickly
Would we have a kid
And move out of the city
I'd be a cynic
While you're into Jesus
I've never been godly
But you'd give me a reason
You'd make the coffee
I'd run the errands
Doing it better than both of our parents
Alone on a drive
Tired of wishing
Romanticizing
All that I'm missing

I don't care that it's pretend
I know you exist
Oh and I've been wondering
How close we've been

I was in Utah, Salt Lake
You were the left that I didn't take
And I was the right one, wrong place
You were a stone throw a light away
But I ran through the red
I was all in my head
I drove past the town where we never met
Because you were the one that got away
So forgive me for driving interstate

I don't know why
I don't know how to love
Whenever it's real
It's never good enough
Is that too much to ask for
Everything that I want
You gotta be out there
You gotta be out there

I don't care it's pretend
I know you exist
Oh, I've been wondering
How close we've been

I was in Utah, Salt Lake
You were the left that I didn't take
And I was the right one, wrong place
You were a stone throw a light away
But I ran through the red
I was all in my head
Because you were the one that got away
So forgive me for driving interstate

Oh, forgive me for driving interstate
Na, na, na, na, na, na, na, na, na, na, na, na, na

Na, na, na, na, na, na, na, na, na, na, na, na

I was in Utah, Salt Lake
