

Something Going On

RZA

I hear there's something going on
Tell all my brothers come back home
'Cause I don't wanna die alone
We fight together we'll be strong

I hear there's something going on
Tell all my brothers come back home
'Cause I don't wanna die alone
We fight together we'll be strong
I hear there's something going on

(Yo)

The sky may fall and worlds may shake
Our bond of friendship will never break
We were brothers from another mother
Now when we speak, we both seem to stutter
Have we grown that far apart?
With a stone inside our heart?

Every day you used to come and get me
We caught a bag, split it 50/50
Someone fronted, we would jump them quickly
Routing for each other's victory

I trust you with my life and my wife
When it came to you, I didn't think twice
Band mates, clan mates, and family
I would tell you that I love you candidly
It seems now we've gone our separate ways
The disconnect led us both astray

I hear there's something going on
Tell all my brothers come back home
'Cause I don't wanna die alone
We fight together we'll be strong

I hear there's something going on
Tell all my brothers come back home
'Cause I don't wanna die alone
We fight together we'll be strong
I hear there's something going on

Brother brother
Where art thou?
Would you rather have a smartphone or smart child?
A sharp blade or a sharp smile?
A stockade or a stockpile?

Either choice, I was with the fix
But you were seen, with those counterfeit's
Walking miles in the wrong shoes
Turned your back when you heard the good news

I was thinking just the other day
When we saw each other what will we say?
Will we help each other find a way?

Or be silent?

Would we greet each other both in peace or speak violence?
Are we ever gonna come back together so we can defeat these tyrants?

I hear there's something going on
Tell all my brothers come back home
'Cause I don't wanna die alone
We fight together we'll be strong

I hear there's something going on
Tell all my brothers come back home
'Cause I don't wanna die alone
We fight together we'll be strong
I hear there's something going on
