

Waking Up

S. Carey

I'm waking up
In another man's lifetime
All that I failed to see
Will you hear my plea?

I'm waking up
Just a shell of who I was
But I want to shake you
It's me it's me it's me

I'm waking up
And another night no sleep
All the words left unsaid
Still haunt me

I'm waking up
With a steady dose of truth
I need to own up
I want what's best for you

I want what's best for you
For once
I want what's best for you
For once
I want what's best for you
