

Be Yourself

S-X

Sometimes I make assumptions
That might be wrong, that might be wrong

If I let you be yourself, -self
You might get with someone else and then I lost you
If I let you be yourself, -self
Promise that it won't be me you come back to

Because you're too busy for these problems
And I know your time is precious
I don't wanna add no pressure
You know we should talk it out
But have had the talk too many times
And we ain't ever changing that
Just don't think I can leave you though
I know it's what we're facing
I'ma make it, I'ma make it work
Time away ain't changing shit
I hate when we exchange those ones
But that's just the way it is
Your heart has still got pain in it
I seeing it when I'm facing it
I don't love this relationship
But I can not let go of it

If I let you be yourself, -self
You might get with someone else and then I lost you
If I let you be yourself, -self
Promise that it won't be me you come back to

Ay, I won't ever lie to you baby
You know I won't do that
If you wanna leave, just leave
You know that I won't hold you back
I can not believe that you have even tried to notice that
You know we are going back

If I let you be yourself, -self
You might get with someone else and then I lost you
If I let you be yourself, -self
Promise that it won't be me you come back to
If I let you be yourself, -self
You might get with someone else and then I lost you
If I let you be yourself, -self
Promise that it won't be me you come back to
