

Falls Down

S-X

You can never be the one I love when it all falls down
It was just one thing that we had, but it's over now
And you don't wanna see what's in my head when you're not around
You'll never met someone like me

And yet I, seen it from the start I know
Why you have trouble tryna let go of love
Because you never really had it while you thought you had it
'Till you realized you were damaged
I'm a walking contradiction, give advice and never take it
All my problems are the same shit, time is flying and I'm aging
I ain't got no fucking patience, I know one day Imma make it
But I really need someone like me

You can never be the one I love when it all falls down
It was just one thing that we had, but it's over now
And you don't wanna see what's in my head when you're not around
You'll never met someone like me
I could never see a future with you, she's got me
And you love me way too much, I'll take what's bad for me
I do doubt behind your back I know when you can't see
You'll never met someone like me

Someone like me, I know you're searching
You were my [?] I gave you purpose
You say you're holding on and you'd wait for me
We'll keep waiting, please, yeah

Ooooh, ooooh
Ooooh, ooooh
Ooooh, ooooh, ooooh

You can never be the one I love when it all falls down
It was just one thing that we had, but it's over now
And you don't wanna see what's in my head when you're not around
You'll never met someone like me
I could never see a future with you, she's got me
And you love me way too much, I'll take what's bad for me
I do doubt behind your back I know when you can't see
You'll never met someone like me