

Letting Go

Saara Aalto

This is the new beginning
I still keep repeating
Good will always come from bad
That's why I keep on waiting
Waiting for the reasons
Or some understanding
Why things always have to change
Like nothing's everlasting

I stood here strong and watched you leave
And tried to make myself believe
That letting go could never be this easy
Easy, easy
But tell me why, why I still miss you

This is the new beginning
My lonely heart was beating
When like the wind and like the sand
Together we were dancing
But I felt the wind was changing
When you kept on saying
I taught you everything I could
Now we should keep on growing

I stood here strong and watched you leave
And tried to make myself believe
That letting go could never be this easy
Easy, easy
But tell me why, why I still miss you

I stood here strong and watched you leave
And tried to make myself believe
That letting go could never be this easy
Easy, easy
But tell me why, why I still miss you
