

HAPPENS

Sabina Ddumba

I don't wanna waste your time
I know you're not alone
If I told you it could wait
I'm lying, girl, can you talk?

Yeah, tell me what's wrong?

I've been thinking
All these good intentions
Only go as far as I can throw
How come they say they're here
And I still feel alone?

Don't know how to say it, babe
You ain't been yourself lately
Took some courage to share
I don't know if it helps
But I swear we're on the same page

Girl, supposed to be in your best years
They all want time you can't give
It be your own friends
Wishing someone would've said
That it gets like this

Every win you might lose
'Cause it fell through
And you can't see a way around
Girl, that shit happens
You don't gotta worry 'bout how

If you got a bad view
That ain't on you
Even if the sky falls down
Girl, that shit happens
You don't have to hold this one now

Is it asking for too much to be further along?
No, no
It feels like meaning and inconvenience
Always get along
You ain't wrong

I've been in and out of luck
And I'm feeling like giving up
Oh, not too fast, you know
Pain is only seasonal
God knows
Leaves they fall
No one's fault

Girl, I get it
The journey feels never-ending
It ain't always pretty
But same way, it's beautiful

I know

But why it's taking me so long
How come we don't ever know when
'Til we're dealt an unfair hand
Just how it is
I wish someone would have said

Every win you might lose
You don't have to worry 'bout now, how

If you got a bad view
That ain't on you
Even if the sky falls down

You don't have to worry 'bout how

Every win you might lose
Ain't gotta worry 'bout how
(Ain't gotta worry 'bout how)

If you got a bad view
That ain't on you
