

Basic Needs

Sabrina Claudio

I'm guessin' that my basic needs were too much for you? (Hello?
)

A conversation too much to ask?

But somehow, I get bare minimum in all you do

Baby, how ironic is that?

Tell me, how the hell's that supposed to work?

You know damn well you should always put me first

I expect you to go to the ends of the Earth

But I'm not even askin' for that

I just wanted some understandin'

I'm guessin' that my basic needs were too much for you?

Too much for you

I'm guessin' that my basic needs were too much for you?

Too much for you

I'm guessin' that maybe you fell out of love with me?

Don't worry, baby, 'cause so did I

The thought of dependin' on you is just crazy

There's no way that I would've survived

So, tell me, how the hell's that supposed to work?

You know damn well you should always put me first

I expect you to go to the ends of the Earth

But I wasn't even askin' for that

I just wanted some understandin'

I'm guessin' that my basic needs were too much for you?

Too much for you

I'm guessin' that my basic needs were too much for you?

Too much for you, oh
