

Beat of Your Heart

SafetySuit

I wanna tell you 'bout my heartbeat
And how it hits when you're around
I wanna tell you how I spent my whole life
A flatline laying on the sideline

Just need the words to come out
Just need the words to come out

So here I am, stumbling on every word that comes to me
Do you know, that every single beat of your heart
Starts another fire in mine?
Opposite of dwindling is violent like a hurricane
Do you know, with every single beat of your heart
You start another fire in mine?

And if I tell you about my heartbeat
Will it make you run or make you stay?
Cause you're like an arsonist inside me
You light the sky with my heart's flames

I wanna tell you
Just need the words to come out

So here I am, stumbling on every word that comes to me
Do you know, that every single beat of your heart
Starts another fire in mine?
Opposite of dwindling is violent like a hurricane
Do you know, with every single beat of your heart
You start another fire in mine?

Here we go!

So here I am, stumbling on every word that comes to me
Do you know, with every single beat of your heart
You start another fire in mine?
Opposite of dwindling is violent like a hurricane
Do you know, with every single beat of your heart
You start another fire in mine?
