

Stolen

Said The Sky

I can remember
When the nights never seemed to end
A hole in my chest, the emptiest breath
The life that I left

I saw the future
As we drove through the rain that night
The look in your eye from the passenger side
Stuck in my mind

No lie, no lie
I've had this emptiness inside all my life
Till you found me
And you were all I needed

I was lost in my darkest moment
Found my head when my heart was stolen
The getaway was everything
One night and my heart was stolen
In your bed with my eyes wide open
Found my head when my heart was stolen
You got me now, don't let me go
One night and my heart was stolen

Ooh
Every night another wall comes down
I wave the white flag
The sheets on your bed
The moments I've spent

Waited forever
And it felt like the perfect time
For someone like you
To walk in the room
I'll tell you the truth

No lie, no lie
I've had this emptiness inside all my life
Till you found me
And you were all I needed

I was lost in my darkest moment
Found my head when my heart was stolen
The getaway was everything
One night and my heart was stolen
In your bed with my eyes wide open
Found my head when my heart was stolen
You got me now, don't let me go
One night and my heart was stolen

The getaway was everything (all I wanted)
The getaway was everything (all I needed)

I was lost in my darkest moment
Found my head when my heart was stolen
The getaway was everything
One night and my heart was stolen

In your bed with my eyes wide open
Found my head when my heart was stolen
You got me now, don't let me go
One night and my heart was stolen

The getaway was everything (all I wanted)
The getaway was everything (one night and my heart was stolen)
The getaway was everything (all I wanted)
The getaway was everything (one night and my heart was stolen)
