

I Will Follow You

Said the Whale

I will follow you no matter where you go
I wanna be the comfort in your company

Holy shit, it hit me like a ton of bricks
Even though we worked it out, everything is different

And I will follow you no matter where you go
I wanna be the comfort in your company
And I will follow you no matter where you go
I wanna be the comfort in your company

Holy fuck, we're gonna need a ton of luck
Even though we are all born innocent
It doesn't take too much to fuck it up

And I will follow you no matter where you go
I wanna be the comfort in your company
And I will follow you no matter where you go
I wanna be the comfort in your company

I need you by my side, forever you and I
So marry me and tell me that until you die
We - each other's company - it's everything we need
And we can be the comfort in our company

And I will follow you no matter where you go
I wanna be the comfort in your company
