

Promise Ring

Saigon

Ya know

Being when there's quarantine I figured I'd take this time to have one of those heart to hearts with my daughter
Milan, come here Milan

How you feeling Milan?

I'm feeling good, dad

Listen, I know you only 8 but it's time we had a conversation
Wait, did I do something bad?

No, not at all, Mimi actually I'm kinda glad

That you understand the importance of honesty

As you become a lady there's something you need to promise me
Anything

Promise me you'll always keep yourself in check

I promise

Promise me you always gon' have self respect

Of course, dad

Promise me if you ever meet a man you want to marry

You tell him that if he violate I'll break his neck

First of all, the last thing on my mind is a boy

Even around little B I get kinda annoyed

I'm a young black queen

I'ma build so many things I won't ever probably have time to destroy

I could grow to be pretty as Halle Berry

I'ma use my intelligence so you don't gotta worry

I ain't gotta worry?

Dad, you ain't gotta worry

Okay

You know I'm keeping this forever, right?

Stay like you are

You are a God, my queen

Don't forget anything

I told you to do

You just be you

That's how you'll find your king
