

Standing in the shadows, hero of the story
Riding on a saddle, chasing down the glory
Time to make your move, do exactly what you do
It's a sure shot, it's yours to lose

It's the kinda luck that rains down once upon a lifetime
Can you hear the countdown, can you see the goal line?
Everything is lined up, waiting for your moment
Time slows down

You don't stop a bullet when it's set into motion
You don't stop a fire when you light an explosion
So then why would we fight it? Already ignited
Counting down, down, down, down

There's no putting lightning back into a bottle
Counting on a dark horse, pulling on the throttle
Once you made your mind up, you're never going back
Time slows down

You don't stop a bullet when it's set into motion
You don't stop a fire when you light an explosion
So then why would we fight it? Already ignited
Counting down, down, down, down

Standing in the shadows, hero of the story
Riding on a saddle, chasing down the glory
Time to make your move, do exactly what you do
It's a sure shot, it's yours

You don't stop a bullet when it's set into motion
You don't stop a fire when you light an explosion
So then why would we fight it? Already ignited
Counting down, down, down, down
You don't stop a bullet when it's set into motion
You don't stop a fire when you light an explosion
So then why would we fight it? Already ignited
Counting down, down, down, down
