

Blue Feather

SAINT PHNX

Last night I tried to fall asleep, wide awake with memories
Haunted by the time that slipped away
There's somewhere in a fever dream, halfway to reality
I opened up my eyes and saw his face

And he said
"Son don't wait for better days to find you, they will come your way
If you give up the fight"
And I'm sending you a sign
Send a feather from the sky
So you know I'm always by your side

I took a walk to clear my head and see if I can manifest
All the words of wisdom that he said
And as I looked down at my feet
I saw it there in front of me
A message so I know he's always there

And he said
"Son don't wait for better days to find you, they will come your way
If you give up the fight"
And I'm sending you a sign
Send a feather from the sky
So you know I'm always by your side
Always by your side
Side
Always by your side

I know you're looking down so write a message in the clouds
To take away my fears, take away my doubts
And when I'm feeling lost, a little lonely and down
I remember that you'll always be around
I remember that you'll always be around

And he said
"Son don't wait for better days to find you, they will come your way
If you give up the fight"
And I'm sending you a sign
Send a feather from the sky
So you know I'm always by your side
Always by your side
Side
Always by your side
(I remember that you'll always be around)
