

Intro (Sorry)

Saint Saviour

I've made considerable mistakes tried to be someone else I've smoothed the creases from my face fought a war for myself

I could say that I was sorry
without losing face
but I'm far too proud to let this go

You say simplicity is key but my head won't believe Cos I'm complicated to a t lose a thread, roll a sleeve

I could say that I was sorry
without losing face

I could tell you not to worry
'bout your number in the race but I'm far too proud to let you know
