

Escape From The Fire

Saint

Enemy below we rip through the sky
Pounding the earth with a judgment day cry
Witness the power from heaven above
Gallant white horses and those who I love

Crushing the dragon, a blow to his head
Stomped through the wine press and now he is dead
All of his glory and all his desires
Judgment upon him, thrown into the fire

In forever hell, there you'll burn
Burn forever and ever, and ever you'll burn

In the heavenly fortress above
Unworthy followers covered in blood
Those who were tested with feet to the fire
Now forever in Christ's empire

Escape from the fire! (x2)
