

We Will Fight

Saint

You say: "Come join the fold today
The only truth the only way"
But how you paint it pushes me away
The question still remains in mind
Misguided faith that leads the blind
My heart is broke and I can find my way

And I don't know just what to say
(We know the truth, that's why we fight)
It sounds just like insanity

What you're trying to say to me
Is hidden in a mystery
Alive for all the world to see
He's calling out your name

(We will fight)

The worldly ways leave me to blame
So many fears, so many whys
I feel the shadows calling out my name
In a race that some will win
A finish line that's razor thin
Apocalyptic final judgment day

I don't know just what to say
(We know the truth, that's why we fight)
It sounds just like insanity

What you're trying to say to me
Is hidden in a mystery
Alive for all the world to see
He's calling out your name
All the motions set in play
The rebirth of an older day
It's time to give your self away
Your soul they will betray /x2

(We will fight) (x2)
