

Never Should've Let You Go

Saliva

I thought I'd be fine living without you
'Cause you wanted something that I couldn't give
But if I'd known then what I'd go through
That every time I close my eyes I see your face and realize

'Cause I never should've let you go
And I still feel it burning in my soul
There's no deeper pain
Knowing every day

That I'm never gonna get you back
And I'm still living with that regret
Every night in this bed on my own
I never should've let you go

You walked away and I still can't blame you
And now that you found what you needed in me
With somebody else I hang on to The memories I've lost it's all that's left here because

'Cause I never should've let you go
And I still feel it burning in my soul
There's no deeper pain
Knowing every day

That I'm never gonna get you back
And I'm still living with that regret
Every night in this bed on my own
I never should've let you go

And it's hell knowing what I lost
And every day I pay the cost
I'll wake up and realize that you are gone

I never should've let you go
And I still feel it burning in my soul
There's no deeper pain
Knowing every day

That I'm never gonna get you back
And I'm still living with that regret
Every night in this bed on my own
I never should've let you go
I never should've let you go

No, I never, never, never
I never should've let you go
