

Circle The Drain

Saltwound

Bite your fucking tongue

I hope it hurt
When you fell from the fucking climb
Take all the pain
Let it fester and internalize
You had a taste
But you pissed it all away
Can't bypass the blame
Motherfucker you just circled the drain

Watch your life fucking wash away
A carcass in the sun we were bound to in chains
Imposter without honor
Tell me do you finally see
All your sins, all your falters
The sum of incompetency

Denigrate your own name on your way out
But you're throwing stones in a glass house

Sever your name from an empire you could never create
Love dies as quick as it comes up
A dog never fucking taught to shut up
Sever the weak from the strong
Watch them fall away
Held out my hand
But I watched as you circled the fucking drain

You're were never the man you thought you were
You blew the chance that you begged me for
So I kicked you out the fucking door
And let nature take its fucking course

I'll never resist a chance to unveil
The truth of who you are
Vilify me all you want
But you can't measure up to the lowest fucking bar
Turn tail and run motherfucker
