

Hollow

Saltwound

Death casts a shadow
That washes over me
And leaves me
With nothing but despair
Deadweight drags behind me
And now my own name
Leaves me ensnared
Motherfuck you all
(Prepare to meet God)

Rise up from the worms
Pulling me down
To my blood-stained place in the dirt
Embrace the night
Bear witness to a nameless life

Devoid of purpose
Devoid of sanity
Now let spite flow and sew even further division
Testify my demise you envision
Oh behold, what a marvelous sight to see
Burn me down but ashes can't conquer me

Now seek warmth in
All those who forsook me
Disloyal fucking dogs
I'll leave you to feast on the bones

Of your world
Crashing down
Suffocate
All of you
Bite your tongue
Forsake me
Hear my words
And curse your name

The cancer continues to spread
Peel back the flesh
Stare deep inside the abyss
You have nothing left
Gravitate to the only
Identity you ever had
Stand in the mirror incensed
At how your forever
Could ever come to this end
Now the man you loved
Is the monster you fear

(The monster you've made)
Hollow shell, try to climb so high
But nobody watched you climb at all
Smiling like the devil himself
As I watch you fall

(Motherfucker)

You know what time it is
You fucking bitch
Hear my words
And curse your fucking name

Absent reflection
Hollow shells all start to fade
Faceless and nameless
When your name was always me

No face, no name
Hollow shell decays
