Forgive & Forget

Sam Bailey

I don't know, for a minute there I almost lost control
But here alone I've had time to think of ways to let it go
How to come two turns accepting world
You are so easily just giving up

Where do I go from here?
What do I do when it's impossible to change the truth?
When there is nothing left
When does it disappear?
What do I do when I forgive you, but I can't forget?
Words that you never meant
But you cannot take back
I forgive but I won't forget

Are you ashamed of the lies that you defended for your pride?
Feel anything when you swore it true while looking in my eyes
How'd you do it? How'd you watched me cry?
Oh, was it as easy as it was to lie?

Where do I go from here?
What do I do when it's impossible to change the truth?
When there is nothing left
When does it disappear?
What do I do when I forgive you, but I can't forget?
Words that you never meant
What you cannot take back
I forgive but I won't forget

Now as I'm looking at your face
It won't go away
All it does is just remind me

Where do I go from here?
What do I do when it's impossible to change the truth?
When there is nothing left
When does it disappear?
All I can do is just forgive you, but I can't forget
Words that you never meant
But you cannot take back
I forgive but I won't forget

All of the time we spent
The years you cannot give back
I forgive but I won't forget
