

Away With The Faeries

Sam Brown

Little girl lost
Bewildered and careless
In her own world weightless steps on the moon

Child like the woman away with the fairies
That one where she waltzes to her own tune

Gravity pulls at the skin on her face
The wrinkles and lines tell her tale
But the innocent smile and the light in
Her eyes are a ship on the sea with no sails

Little girl lost
Bewildered and careless
In her own world weightless steps on the moon
Child like the woman away with the fairies
That one where she waltzes to her own tune

Reality left her
Marooned with no hope
No lifeboat, no ladder, no rope
And so in her mind there's no reason or rhyme
With the wind in her hair she dances through time

Little girl lost
Bewildered and careless
In her own world weightless steps on the moon
Child like the woman away with the fairies
That one where she waltzes to her own tune
