

Void

Sam Brown

Feet running delicately through
And quicker than this mind of mine
Quicker so before I even knew
Your feet had left me far behind

And the time blows between us
My face to the sun
So behind me fall the shadows
Still there's Void when you're gone

Blood running delicately through
And deeper than the eye can see
Deeper so before I even knew
Your heart had moved away from me

And the time blows between us
My face to the sun
So behind me fall the shadows
Still there's Void when you're gone

Love running delicately through
Possessing me in memory
There will I ever run with you
But only there my pleasure be

For the time blows between us
My face to the sun
So behind me fall the shadows
Still there's Void when you're gone