

Everything About You

Sam Feldt

I love how you wake me in the morning
I hate how you leave your shit around
It might get rough, but it's never boring
The consistency holds me down

And it might take until we die
To find the pieces that we need to get it right
And it might break, but we have to try
And when they ask me, "What's your secret?
What's your favourite part?", I tell 'em, I say

Everything about you
Nothing compares to the
Way I feel about you
Way I feel about you

Can't believe I found you
Nothing compares to the
Way I feel about you
Everything about you

When they ask me, I'll say
When they ask me, I'll say
When they ask me, I'll say

I showed you how to fight your demons
You told me how to love myself
And I swear, we've got so many reasons
We don't need nobody else

And it might take until we die
To find the pieces that we need to get it right
And it might break, but we have to try
And when they ask me, "What's your secret?
What's your favourite?", I tell 'em, I say

Everything about you
Nothing compares to the
Way I feel about you
Way I feel about you

Can't believe I found you
Nothing compares to the
Way I feel about you
Everything about you

When they ask me, I'll say
When they ask me, I'll say
When they ask me, I'll say

Everything about you
Nothing compares to the
Way I feel about you
Way I feel about you

Can't believe I found you

Way I feel about you
Everything about you

When they ask me, I'll say
When they ask me, I'll say
When they ask me, I'll say
Everything about you
