

Start Nowhere

Sam Hunt

I'm packin' it up, movin' along
Headed for dirt the stars fell on
Heavenly pines, holier ground
You probably ain't ever heard of the town

Life caught up the way that it does
Don't even know who I was
Before my world got so unsteady
Man, I'm ready to feel alright

Well, I don't know but I've been told
Moss don't grow on a rolling stone
Me, I wanna go where the river rolls
And breathe in that old down home

Feelin' again 'cause lately I've been
Spinnin' my wheels out gone with the wind
When I need to get back to who I am
There ain't but just one road there
Sometimes you gotta start nowhere

I'm cleanin' the slate, startin' from scratch
Walkin' around retracin' my tracks
Where I used to get lost back in the day
Where everything is an hour away

Except for a girl that I used to know
She lived with her mama down Calico Road
She was gonna leave, did she ever go

Well, I don't know but I've been told
Moss don't grow on a rolling stone
Me, I wanna go where the river rolls
And breathe in that old down home

Feelin' again 'cause lately I've been
Spinnin' my wheels out gone with the wind
When I need to get back to who I am
There ain't but just one road there
Sometimes you gotta start nowhere

Yeah, I've been leaned back
Takin' it easy
Yeah, I'll be off the grid if anybody needs me
Breathin' some life back in my lungs
Just like when I was young
And everything was breezy

Well, I don't know but I've been told
Moss don't grow on a rolling stone
Me, I wanna go where the river rolls
And breathe in that old down home

Feelin' again 'cause lately I've been
Spinnin' my wheels out gone with the wind
When I need to get back to who I am
There ain't but just one road there

Sometimes you gotta start nowhere

Sometimes you gotta start nowhere
