Young Once

She said, "We're only young once"
In the back of a Chevrolet
"Hey Now" on the radio
Ashes in the tray
You can only get drunk once
On this kind of naivety
Who knows how long we're always gonna feel this way?

Time goes by and it'll dull the razor And we don't know why Let's worry 'bout that later 'Cause if we never do nothing else stupid If we never do nothing else stupid At least we know someday That we can look back and say We were young once

We were young once We were gung-ho, singing in the sun once Backroads in the wild, on the run once Cheap thrills, doing things in the wheat fields We were young, we were young, we were young once We were young once

She said let's get a cheap hotel And make out in the hall I'll cover up your mouth And play it cool if my parents call Let's get lost tonight Before the world's too small Someday we're gonna know too much to know it all

Time goes by and it'll dull the razor And we don't know why Let's worry 'bout that later 'Cause if we never do nothing else stupid If we never do nothing else stupid At least we know someday We can look back and say We were young once

We were young once We were gung-ho, singing in the sun once Backroads in the wild on the run once Cheap thrills, doing things in the wheat fields We were young, we were young, we were young once We were young, we were young, we were young once We were young, we were young, we were young once

We were young once We were young once

We were young once We were gung-ho, singing in the sun once Backroads in the wild on the run once Cheap thrills, doing things in the wheat fields We were young, we were young, we were young once

We were young, we were young, we were young once We were young, we were young, we were young once

We were gung-ho, singing in the sun once Backroads in the wild, on the run once Cheap thrills, doing things in the wheat fields We were young, we were young, we were young once We were young, we were young, we were young once
