

Why Does Everything Make Me Cry?

Sam Nelson

Breaking down in 14B
Some awful documentary
Doesn't take much now to break me down
Like making small talk with a stranger
Laying laundry in the sun
Doing something so mundane
Makes me all but come undone

Doesn't make sense
No, it doesn't make sense
I feel so ridiculous

Why does everything make me cry?
One minute I'm fine, then suddenly I'm a wreck
The way your hair falls down the back of your neck
I die whenever I look in your eyes
Just seeing your smile, and suddenly I'm a mess
'Cause I think you're the best
I guess
If that ain't cause for tears, then what is?

Sometimes, it's just the way you lay there
Making faces in your sleep
How you leave the whole house spotless
Still leave tea bags in the sink
Sometimes it's the way you call my name
From across the room
And forget why you just called me
God, it hurts how much I love you

Doesnt make sense
No, it doesn't make sense
I feel so ridiculous

Why does everything make me cry?
One minute I'm fine, then suddenly I'm a wreck
The way your hair falls down the back of your neck
I die whenever I look in your eyes
Just seeing your smile, and suddenly I'm a mess
Yeah, I think you're the best
I guess
Oh, if that ain't cause for tears, then nothing is

Why does everything make me cry?
One minute I'm fine, then suddenly I'm a wreck
The way your hair falls down the back of your neck
I die whenever I look in your eyes
Just seeing your smile, and suddenly I'm a mess
'Cause I think you're the best
I guess
Oh, if that ain't cause for tears, then nothing is